

innovative broadband products and to be the leading integrator of broadband delivery platforms worldwide.

We created Indeliq, a new Accenture company that provides simulation-based e-learning applications to improve business performance.

We worked closely with Marriott International to jointly create a shared services center to centralize many of Marriott's finance functions, generating millions of dollars in annual benefits for the company.

We partnered with Spain's Mecalux to create LogisMarket, a global electronic marketplace for buyers and sellers of storage, handling, maintenance and transport goods and services.

Through a major services agreement, we are providing internal application development and maintenance for Microsoft Operations and Sales.

We are helping Peugeot improve customer service, increase sales and strengthen relationships with dealers and consumers via the Internet.

We helped develop and launch Quadrem, a global electronic marketplace that enables mining, minerals and metals companies to reduce costs in procurement and supply chain management.

With Retek, we are marketing "Scientific Retailing," combining our retail expertise with jointly developed predictive applications to optimize retailers' supply and demand decisions.

We are helping Shell Exploration and Production standardize its global processes, data and information technology infrastructure to realize substantial savings.

In less than nine months, we helped Sony Computer Entertainment Europe build a new marketing and distribution channel to roll out its PlayStation 2 across the continent.

We worked with Takeda Pharmaceuticals America to build a comprehensive set of business capabilities, including drug development, sales and marketing, and supply chain management.

We are helping UNAIDS in Geneva build a global portal to enable professionals in 180 countries to share information to combat HIV/AIDS.